Recognizing a phishing attempt

Check spelling and grammar. If it is poorly written, it could be a scam!

Check the sender's email. Make sure it is coming from a proper domain.

Is it too good to be true?

Does the email stress urgency?

Is it asking for personal information?

Reporting a phishing attempt

Most major platforms allow you to report phishing attempts through the platform itself.

Report phishing attempts to your IT department

Report phishing attempts to the Federal Trade Commission
